

The CRC is safer than you think!

For members of the LGBTQ+ community and their allies, the Christian Reformed Church (CRC) may be safer than you think.

Many CRC churches are on a journey; creating safe space takes time. BUT creating brave space – where open, honest, and positive conversations can happen – is up to all of us. Those spaces are growing – across the continent.

This map, created and published by Hesed Project CRC, is a visual representation of CRC churches where members of the LGBTQ+ community and their allies could find welcome in a church community. Some are affirming, more are on a journey; all have members who will respect, support, and enfold LGBTQ+ persons and allies.

The map is being updated regularly. Visit Hesed Project CRC today to learn more.

BE BRAVE!

The Hesed Project

The Hesed Project CRC is a rich treasure trove of resources, affirmation, conversation starters, and ideas. Visit to learn, get connected, and start your own brave conversations. www.hesedprojectcrc.org

“
LGBTQ+ people: Created in the image of God, baptized into the covenant of Jesus, welcomed into the fellowship of the Holy Spirit.
”

- a CRC congregation

“
You, your story, and your embodied identity are welcome here.
”

- a CRC congregation

“
All who follow Jesus are welcome, and able to fully participate in the life of the church.
”

- a CRC congregation

“
Join us as we celebrate the outrageous love of God.
”

- a CRC congregation

Visit our website for more welcome and inspiration

The Hesed Project